Count Adam Zoltowski and Consul-General Daniel Kansaycki went to Oppeln as Korfanty's alenipotentiaries to open preliminary negotiations with the German delegates whom the inter-Allied commission has undertaken to furnish.

What was regarded as the first complets "conquest" of Upper Silesian cities by the insurgents took place at 5 o'clock yesterday morning when a party of Polish railway men occupied the Beuthen station and freight yards, which up until until the present had been under the exclusive control of French

BERLIN, May 27.—"Hoch England," "Hoch Ireland," "Down with Poland," "Hall Our Deliverers," were the shouts which greeted the advance guard of the British as they entered Breslau this morning and Oppeln at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The excited German Silesian population gathered at the railroad stations to cheer the khaki-clad representatives of "perfidious Albion," whom they hated the most of all the nations fighting against them in the great war.

The stations were crowded with rich and poor, with women with babies and with girls, who brought poppies such as grew in Flanders fields, and again the "First Royal Irish regiment and the Second Black Watch, which won undying fame upon the pappy-covered fields of the Somme, stuck the crimson flowers in their fielmets. Mr. Sullivan's version of the principal reason information obtained from sources friendly to man's insistence upon Mrs. Stillman going abroad with his suit and that the next hearings would be held in Pough keepsie on June 1 and 2, as scheduled.

At the conclusion of the conferences John B. Stanchfield of counsel for Mrs. Stillman was reported to have said it looked as though the negotiations were "all off." It was learned that the negotiations did not cause the defense to relax its efforts and that investigators have been kept at work verifying informa cerning Mr. Stillman. It was said to be the intention of the de-fense to ask for permission to file a further amended answer, in which at least one other woman will be named in addition to Mrs. Florence H. Leeds, Reports that Mrs. Stillman's attorneys might seek to bring criminal proceedings against Mr. Stillman, either in the State or Federal courts, in connection with his alleged intimacy with Mrs. Leeds, were denied by persons friendly to Mrs. Stillman.

No confirmation could be obtained of a report that Mr. Stillman and Mrs. Leeds had a conference within a day or two in Jersey City, together with one of Mr. Stillman's attorneys.

part of radicals of the Pacific Northwest to set fires in the forests, Department of Justice officials here to day announced organization of a force of State and Federal officers in the forest service employees to protect standing timber during the forest fire season.

Unemployment among woods workers, it was believed by Department of Justice officials, making the announcement, has given rise to plans among radicals to provide work for themselves as fire fighters by setting fires. By this means, they asserted, it is planned to "make a stake" of money, food and other supplies to provide against further unemployment.

The force of Federal and State officers, it was stated, will be directed by a Federal official from Missoula, Mont.

NASHINGTON, May 27.—A comprehensive survey of existing matariant in the idea of preparing an up-to-date bill with which to selve immigration problems, was begun resterdy by the House Immigration Committee under the leadership of Representative Albert Johnson of Washington.

Not only is consolidation of the various acts into one compact measure contemplated, but efforts will probably be made to incorporate in the new legislation some innovation along immigrant control lines. Chief among the proposed changes is the plan of immigrant registration, whereby the newcomers shall register with and report to Federal officials at least once a year during a probationary period to be determined upon by Congress.

This proposal was first discussed in the last session of the Sixty-sixth Congress, when immigration restrict.

The fact that women have been placed on an equal suffrage basis with the men also necessitates a change in naturalization laws, in the opinion of committee members. Now

NEW YORK, May 27.—A general strike has been started in Norway, said an official dispatch received here today. Although no serious disturbance has been reported, the government has called troops to assist the police in Christianis and other cities. The dispatch, which stated that settlement negotiations had been started between employers and employees, said there was plenty of food in the cities to meet the emergency. The electric plant at the capital still is operating, but the gas plant and other municipal institutions have closed.

Steamship engineers and sailors had been on strike in Christiania for two weeks against a proposed wage cut of 23 per cent and yesterday dispatches from the Norwegian capital stated 120,000 union laborers also had threatened to walk out.

When all but railway men began to cease work the government mobilized the army and navy, as it had been declared the Bolsheviki were urging a general strike for revolutionary purposes.

SACRAMENTO. May 27.—Conditions with regard to health and other factors among the Indians of the Piute. Hat Creek and Pitt River tribes living in parts of Shasta and Modoc counties, "are urgently in need of attention" from the government authorities according to a and Modoc counties, "are urgently in need of attention." from the government authorities, according to a report brought back by Dr. Allen Gillihan, northern district health officer, for the State Board of Health, following a two months' survey of tribal conditions.

The survey was made by Dr. Gillihan and Mrs. Alma B. Shaffer, public health nurse, acting under instructions from the board of health and the State board of control, as the result of complaints made to members of the Législature and representatives of the executive branch of the State government that many of the Indians were starving to death.

"In a general way, I found no actual starvation among those able to work," said Gillihan, "but as I regard the matter, there are many conditions among the Indians that are urgently in need of attention."

Details of the report were not made public.

SENATE ENDS HEARINGS ON TAX REVISION; TARIFF BILL NEARLY READY.

IBY A. P. SIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Distinct progress was made in Congress to day in the matter of tax and tarific iegislation.

The Senate Finance Committee concluded open hearings on tax revision, while The House Ways and Means Committee began a final redrart of the permanent tariff bill, preparatory to its introduction in the House. Chairman Fordney said he hoped to have the tariff measure in the House by June 10.

The Senate Finance Committee, which began its tax hearings May 2, had under consideration first the Smoot agles tax bill, which, leaders said today, probably would be opposed strongly in both the House and the Senate. The excess profits tax, it was said, probably will be repealed as suggested by Secretary Mellon.

LOS ANGELES-MADE HOMES BEAUTIFYING THE WESTERN STATES

FOR many years the Pacific Ready-Cut Homes, Inc., has been shipping ready-cut homes to purchasers in all parts of the Southwest. Upwards of 15,000 of these Los Angeles-made structures are now in use.

It is interesting to note that this company uses as its "star salesman" a beautifully printed book of designs showing photographs of exteriors, blue-prints of floor plans, specifications and prices of more than a hundred modern ready-cut homes of various sizes. It retails for fifty cents.

The Fletcher Ford Company has for many years been entrusted with the printing of this book. Right now we are completing volume No. 21. This new edition has cost over $23,000 and is a specimen of printing of which we are proud, because to our certain knowledge it is the most elaborate book of California homes ever produced.

¶We invite a conference on your printing needs, knowing we can prove to you the statement we have so often emphasized in our advertising, viz: "Good printing assists great achievements."

Board of Education to succeed J. F. Neylan.

Clarence E. Jarvis was a member of the State draft exemption board during the war period. He is a past president of the Native Sons of the Golden West and is president of the State Tax Association and of the State Tax Attorneys' Association. He, for several years, was Assessor of Amador county and is regarded as a tax expert.

"In the resignations of Marshall De Motte and Clyde L. Seavey from the Board of Control, the State loses the services of two splendid men, honest, courageous, capable, industrious and efficient," the Governor's annountement said. "The people of California wish them well in their new undertakings."

COUNTY GOVERNMENT BILLS.

SIGNS EDUCATIONAL BILLS.

Over a score of educational measures, among which were Senate Bill $25 and Assembly Bill 709 providing, respectively, for the establishment of teachers and junior colleges in California were signed today by Gov. Stephens.

The teachers' college bill provides that the Normal schools of San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Freeno, and Arcata shall be known hereafter as teachers' colleges and prescribes the course of study and qualifications for graduation. The junior college bill makes such schools a portion of the State and provides that such colleges may be organized in any high school district.

The Governor also signed Senate Bill 499, giving assent to a Federal act which turns over a percentage of the fees derived from rentals and royaltieg on oil and mineral lands to the State to be used for educational purposes. Provision is made in the bill that all funds so received in excess of $10 per pupil in average daily attendance shall in the same content of the state of the same content of the same con SIGNS EDUCATIONAL BILLS.

Business the Country Over; New Chicago Union Station Bonds Offered.

CLEVELAND (O.) May 27.—

Business conditions do not look as favorable in certain lines as they did a month ago. Leaders in many irades, including the steel, coal gand one industry, have been hopeful that there would be a favorable break, but they are not so optimistic now. Many do not look for business to pick up materially before the turn. The automobile plants, which have had a liberal amount of business to far, are not buying as they were, indicating that there is a slowing down in sales, while this, in turn, is curtailing operations at the steel plants and concerns manufacturing accessing the company that business received from the steel men. an affect.

In Chicago, itself, the building
strike is unsettled, more labor agents have been indicted for extortion and a group of alleged professional bomb planters is in jail.
The last is ohly another step in business readjustment. Bomb planting was apparently a process of coercing independent tradesmen to join organizations, which controlled prices. Even the undertakers were not immuns.

What the Foreign-Born Think Of Restricting Immigration

While every one else has had his say on the big vital problem of immigration, little has been heard from the 13,000,000 foreign-born who are already in the United States, and who know the subject at first hand from hard personal experience. Moreover, it is the brothers and sisters, and uncles and aunts, and cousins of these 13,000,000 who are now on the other shore of the Atlantic dreaming of America, and waiting to come, so that our alien-born can speak of the problem with peculiar sympathy and understanding. To obtain a full revelation of the mass-mind of this great element in America's 110,000,000, THE LITERARY DIGEST has solicited the opinions of the foreign language. tain a full revelation of the mass-mind of this great element in America's 110,000,000, THE LITERARY DIGEST has solicited the opinions of the foreign-language newspapers throughout the country, and in this week's issue (May 28) presents translations of editorial views of papers published in the following languages: Armenian, Belgian, Danish, Dutch, Finnish, French, German, Greek, Hungarian, Italian, Jewish, Lithuanian, Norwegian, Polish, Rumanian, Russian, Slovak-Slovenian, Spanish, Swedish, and Ukrainian. Do not miss reading this article because you will obtain at close hand the real viewpoint of our alien-born population upon the restriction of immigration.

"After all arguments to the contrary, I suppose milk is the most satisfying drink in the long rundon't vou think, John, dear?" sweetly queried Mrs. John at dinner one night. "Well, I'll have to admit it is somewhat healthler, if you take the tissue-building question into consideration." rather meskly. No wonder he's tame and willing to be milk-fed, cause wife is clever snought to serve the best of this good of Young's in Los Angeles. At Young's would find milk-fed chickens, choicest meats and freshest fish, breads from their own bakery, delicious cakes and tempting pies. By the drink—L. A. Creamery kind—and truly, it would be hard to surpass for sweet, rich creaminess. If you are not taking L. A.. telephone Main 7724. It will be delivered promptly each day.

He has christened it the Multiplex first demonstration at the plant of the Daly Company, Inc., at 1027 Santa Fe avenue.

The inventor, John M. Matoul, has devoted seventeen years of his life to the development of this en-life to the development of this engine and sixty hard-working mechanics have risked their entire savings on their faith in him and it. Today may decide whether a revolutionary discovery has been given to the world or a life's work and many thousands of precious hard-earned dollars have been wasted. Some qualified engineers have examined it and have exhibited interest if not conviction.

It is a queer looking contrivance that has been built during the past four months at the Daly plant. The principle combines three powers in one motion—hydraulic compression, lever motion and the expansion power of a certain servet liquid used inside the engine. It has six cylinders and six vacuum compartments, one cylinder applying the development power of the engine, replacing a governor.

MARVELOUS CONTROL. MARVELOUS CONTROL

MARVELOUS CONTROL.

The inventor declares that, with control of the engine, power can be increased or decreased to one-thousandth of a grain. He claims that he can reduce the cost of power to at least one-fourth its present expense. Indeed, he believes that the reduction will be much greater than this, but declares he wishes to be conservative. Since many plants, such as sugar and borax, run af a power cost often reaching $1500 a day, it is easy to understand what this means—if it works. The inventor and the mechanics who have built the machine declare that they will demonstrate that it does work today.

The inventor says the engine runs cold—no combustion—and that the liquid is used over and over again, a heavier than oil liquid which neither escapes nor evaporates. It is not perpetual motion but it differs from any known theory of engineering at present.

Half Million in Lands of Mexico Awarded Woman.

Mining and timber lands in Mexico, estimated to be worth $500,000, will go to Mrs. Christopher Enriques Gosch under a decision by Judge Sheak, entered yesterday. The decision was the result of a contest. Christopher Enriquez Gosch lived for many years in Mexico, but was forced to fee during one of the many revolutions. He came to Los Angeles to live. On January 14, last, he died at the age of $4 years. Carlos F. Gosch, a son, offered for probate a letter written by his father as a will. Three daughters, Helena Marsden, Henrietta Blanco and Marie Keily, contested the validity of the letter. They offered for probate a will executed in Mexico in 1678. At that time Mr. Gosch and his wife were said to have been estranged. In his will she was left out as a beneficiary of his estate. The letter written later apparently revoked this provision of the will. Judge Shenk held that the letter was tastamentary, superceding the will of 1872.

OPEN FACED.

In his speech before the Pilgrims' Society in London Admiral Sims congratulated England on being a land of personal liberty and declared that if he came back to it forty years from now he would still be able to get a drink. Doubtless the admiral would find a drink refreshing forty years hence, but if he came back to England for it he might be surprised. Hasn't Pussyfoot Johnson promised a bone-dry England within six years?

WOMEN OF THE EAST.

The women in several of the Chinese provinces have been given the right to vote. This is quite an advance from the old order. It is not so very long ago that the Chinese women had a hard time in proving their right to existence—some of them, in fact, couldn't do it. Now that they have the vote, it is certain that a substantial interest will be taken in them. The women of China may yet be found at the outposts

MY LADY'S KNEE.

Now that the stris are showing 'em, it is the edict of the beauty specialists that the knees be painted and powdered. A lime's an easy thing to view when tinted with a Titian hue. The rouge and powder in the table to be reinforced if the lady were much given to prayer—but probably not. Presently we shall be able to tell a perfect lady by her cute little red knee. A girl with a dimple in her knee can so color charms as to make them fascinatingly minent. The vision of a pink, dimpled knee should do a man as much good as & couple of Bronx cocktails. What's this we hear? what's this we see? A lip stick for a lady's knee? But some of these portly matrons would have to use a calcimine brush to do justice to the subject.

ANDLORD AND TENANT. and ended his life because his tenants com-bined and refused to either move or pay the increased rent he had demanded. This seems to be a simple solution of a vexing problem. If a landlord cannot collect his rent a growler of cyanide of potassium will enable him to forget his troubles. If a tenant objects to the demands of a grasping landlord a few shots from a horse pistol into his own brain will end it all. Then the place can be cleaned up and set for someone else. This is an old Chinese idea of getting even with the other fellow and is very effective—in a way. In some parts of ancient China when a man had a grudee eased rent he had demanded. This of ancient China when a man had a grudge against another he would go and commit suicide on his enemy's doorstep. Then his foe would have to look after his remains. Landlord and tenant could square a lot of differences by playing this game. It must be admitted that there are conditions al-

OUT OF STEP. OHram Johnson is as badly out of tun with the Harding administration as he was with Wilson and the unfortunate thing for the State is that he makes no effort to at-tain harmony. He rather invites and encourages discord. Hiram can keep ster with no one but himself and he has to cul with no one but himself and he has to cultivate a pronounced grasshopper movement to achieve that triumph in gymnasties. He essayed to hang up the business of the country for several days to get even with a man who preferred Harding to Johnson in the Chicago convention. That was the only reason he objected to the confirmation of the new Internal Revenue Commission. The Senator from California not only admitted it, but beemed to be rather proud of it. He actually argued that the appointee was disqualified for public office because he had declined to die in the ditch with the Johnson forces at the Republican National Convention. A Senator who deliberately provokes the hostility of the administration at every possible opportunity and who places his Jrivate grouch above the public gualness will do his State more harm than good. Even the rank and file of the Demogood. Even the rank and file of the Demo-cratic Senators, who are usually prone to encourage any discord in the Republican amp, are more courteous to the administration and decline to lend their votes to the spite squadron. Of course, there is Jim Reed and a few others of his stripe, but in the main the Democratic Senators are giv-ing reasonable support to the administraprogram. CERMANY'S WAR CRIMINALS.

After the glamour and fury of war, after the emotional reaction of the armistice, after the unrepentant truculence at the Peace Conference, after the final sur-render to the Allies' terms come the grim, sordid, nauseating trials of Germany's war criminals. For it was part of the Allies' incelenting command that Germany herself ould punish her individual expo frightfulness, that those responsible for par-ticular horrors, the individual perpetrators of special brutalities, should have their guilt brought home to them, should in som measure pay the price of their brutishness.

This innovation into the aftermath of war, this fixing of personal responsibility, this detailed and intimate exposure of the precious creed of ruthlessness and fright-fulness as practiced by the individual is likely to have a far-reaching effect upon the conduct of future wars, if future wars there must be. In their insistence upon this de-mand the Allies are establishing a valuable precedent, a precedent that will make na-tions hesitate and their nationals mighty reluctant to embark upon a policy of delib-erate frightfulness. And if war must inherently be frightful, as mighty German mili-tarism in its pride and arrogance of strength once claimed, then this irrevocable Nemesis for the individual will help make Nemesis for the individual will help make wars unpopular.

There are some 200 criminals in all that the Allies have specifically named and called upon Germany to try and punish. The first of these cases has just been tried—that of Sergt. Karl Heinen, whose treatment of his helpless, wounded, sick and disabled prisoners in the war camps has been revealed as incredibly brutal. We are told that at first his demeanor was arrogant and defiant, that as the pil/ful evidence of his victims accumulated against him, as even victims accumulated against him, as even his German judges shuddered at the vile details and British and Belgian lawyers watched and listened in grim silence, it changed to one of whining excuse. He con-victed himself, this human fiend incarnate, at first defiantly admitting and excusing his unthinkable crueity. And even his German judges recoiled in horror at his unrepentance. Those judges were naturally reluc-tant to make the punishment fit the crime, since all too well they knew the nations policy which had made such crimes possible His sentence of ten months and the cost of the trial must therefore seem inadequate enough, in face of the appalling and das-tardly cruelty of which the prisoner was guilty—yet it is an admission by Germany that her relies that her policy was wrong, an admission that "frightfulness" was frightful, indeed, and must frightfully reco I upon the perpe-

And there is to be a long, dreary, disgusting succession of such trials, probably extending over years—a perpetual reminder of baseness, a continuous record of dreadful brutality, officially indorsed, officially tolerated white Germany seemed triumphant. That great mass of the German people, themselves deceived and hoodwinked by pie, themselves deceived and hoodwinked by their rulers, who so honestly believed their cause was just, so jubilantly sang "Deutschland Uber Alies" and their Hymn of Hats, so blindly, so loyally upheld the loath-some regime that cheated them, must now be brought to a bitter realization not only that Germany lost the war, but that she lost it ignobly just as she would have won it ignobly had her hordes triumphed. Day after day, month after month they will near the record of individual brutality, hear the dreadful details of inhuman viciousness which they have so long denied, so honestly ple, themselves deceived and hoodwinked by which they have so long denied, so honestly

They will see these men tried and condemned by their own German judges, who, they well know, will give the prisoners any benefit of a doubt that may be theirs. And since, in spite of everything, we must be since, in spite of everything, we must be-lieve that the great mass of German people are human, reasonable, kindly beings, the bitterness of reluctant shame must be theirs. They had not realized, never could have believed that they were indorsing and upholding such a regime of bestial tyraniny— nothing but these grim, coldly practical, legal trials on German soil by German judges could have so poignastly brought legal trials on German soil by German judges could have so poignantly brought these national crimes home to them, es intend conduct ing the trials fairly and honorably is evi-denced in the Heinen case. Even the Britdenced in the Heinen case. Even the Brit-ish and Belgian lawyers, who were denied the privilege of taking part in the case, ad-mitted the proper conduct of the trial. Moreover, a German judge complimented the British witnesses on their well-given evidence, their restraint, their lack of emo-

There is some disappointment that this first German war criminal was not given a harder sentence, but that is of small moment. That he has been found guilty and convicted is the important issue—and that all those others who are found guilty will be publicly condemned. It is not the measure of punishment, but the fact of guilt and punishment that will have the discussions of the contract that will have the discussions of the Contract that the will have the discussions of the Contract that the will have the contract that the contract the Contract the Contract the Contract that the contract t ment, that will have its effect upon the German people—and upon all peoples. No long-er can the individual be shielded behind the clock of a ruthless administration, hence closk of a ruthless administration, hence nations will see to it that their administrations represent them and their views in future, or take the consequences. This is the basis of democracy, that democracy for which we have fought to make the world safe, that governments shall represent, shall indeed be of the people, for the people and by the people. And as these sordid, grim, cold trials of frightfulness pursue the that Kaiser Wilhelm may have of being re-stored to the throne with all that his administration stood for will become ever more remote.

It is seemly that the first prisoners to e tried are those who had charge of the German prison camps—the men who perpetrated their crimes against sick and wounded men, far from the fury of the battlefield, where even in war-time mercy should hold sway. There may perhaps be extenuating circumstances which good men on to bestiality in the violent fury of battle, when madness reigns, blood flows and murder rends the air. But back behind the lines, where weeker was are brought in recorded where broken men are brought in wounded and dying, where souls are passing on to their Maker, the man who could then not only prove devoid of mercy and compassion, who could then torture the sick and dying, must be a loyal disciple of frightfulness in-deed. Hence the next trial will be that of Capt. Mueller, in charge of another war camp, so vile and fifthy that typhus was responsible for the death of 200 British pris-oners in one month and in which dying men were clubbed and beaten and the faces of sick men eaten away by vermin. That such things could be in this day and age, in the era of the Red Cross and the modern attainments of hygiene, is so progressive a coun try as Germany, is too ghastly an outrage well, ladeed, that these shameful attributes of modern warfare should be exposed and pondered upon, not only in Germany, but

It may be that these grim trials of German prisoners, coming as they will through years of peace time, will do more for the abolition of war than all the international

DOISONOUS JOURNALISM.

Prior to the last hundred years news is disseminated through the medium of town and village meetings and other public assemblages. This medium was first sup-plemented and, later, superseded by the public press. The open forum is no longer the public hall, but the daily newspaper. The world has come to learn that where the press is free, faithful, accurate, truthful and unsubsidized tyranny in either government or industry cannot continue to exist. The first step necessary to sustain a dictatorship is to establish a censorship and suppress independent journals.

But the public demands something more than a mere parrative of the news of the day. It asks that its newspaper shall stand for something, that it shall have clearly defined policies and, in addition to the recital of facts and events, it shall point out the relation between these facts and the poli-cles which it espouses; that it shall look from the fact to the idea beyond and above the fact; that it shall sound a warning when the ship of state seems to be sailing into the unsafe waters of uncharted seas.

In viewing events, local, national and in-ternational, the average individual is like one traveling in the mountains; he must seek information of guides, and his own safety depends upon the accuracy and the probity of the guide. Modern life has become internationalized. The price of or-anges in California is regulated, more or less, by the price in the Mediterranean ports, the price of meat by that in the Artinue to be good in Los Angeles if the in-dustries of Europe are demoralized. The dustries of Europe are demoralized. The individual must be in possession of all these duct his private affairs intelligently and successfully. He cannot run about the country to gather his information; he must depend upon the daily press to collect it and deliver it at his door.

It indisputably follows that the correctness of his information will depend upon the industry and the reliability of his daily paper. A venal press is a rogue against whom he must always be on his guard. The paper itself is, to a certain extent, at the mercy of its sources of information. Time will not permit it to investigate thoroughly every item of news that appears in its col-umns. But, while a paper cannot always be accurate, it can always be honest. A publisher who distorts (acts to make them coincide with his policies or to turn them to his private advantage is a knave.

The Times conceives it to be the duty of a newspaper to give to the public a complete, accurate and disinterested daily pres entation of the news and to protect the pub-lic interest. The publication conducted solely for profit, viewed by its owners sim-ply as a business investment, whose pri-mary object is the exploitation of private and personal ends, irrespective of whether the public good is helped or injured so lone as it shows a profit—such a publication is one against which the public must always be on its guard.

It is true that "you can't fool all the peo ple all the time," that the sins of a pub-lisher will eventually find him out; but experience has proved that a venal publica-tion with strong financial backing and pandering to dilettanteism, sexual passions and racial animosities and prejudices can fool enough of the public to become a powerful influence for evil in a thickly populated community. Newspaper speculators become adept at pandering to human weaknesses They are generally of the absent-owner variety. Having no personal interest in a community, they exploit it without acruple. not things as they are, but as they think the reader would like them to be. Gan upon his credulity, they convert an inferno into a paradise. They praise those whom they know he admires and slander others he is likely to hate, without the slightest regard for the truth or the facts in the case.

Los Angeles is not a stranger to this form of venal journalism. It suffers from the curse of the absentee proprietor, the one who uses blackmail as a weapon to increase the receipts of the business office It is well to remember that even Lincoln despite his faith in the common people, admitted that "You can fool all the people part of the time." If it were not so there would be no Cassie Chadwicks, Bolo Pashas, Ponzis and W. R. Hearsts.

We have had a recent example of the extent to which this venal exploitation can be carried and the dissension it can awaken in a community. The occasion was trivial enough. The owners of a local department store had secured permits to construct two bridges across a blind alley, connecting two bridges existed in many parts of the business district, but it happened that the own-ers of this store did not advertise in the Hearst papers. Here was a chance, alike for blackmall and revenge. The Herald and Examiner came out one day with flaming headlines asserting that the owners of the ablishment were "stealing the city's prop erty," that they were erecting a ten-story building on public land without paying ren tal for it.

Followed a characteristic yellow-journs campaign, column after column of false hoods and slanders. Opportunist politicians were promised support if they would join the hue and cry. Professional seekers after publicity were given lurid interviews on condition that they would demand the cancellation of the permits; and, with all the insolence of absentee proprietorship, the public was assured that it was a campaign solely to protect the public interest. Initiative petitions were circulated and the campaign was forced into the municipa election. The wisdom of Lincoln's assertion that "You can't fool all the people all the time" was fully proved. The people decided by a two-to-one vote that the bridges should remain. And, with an impudence that knows not shame, the Hearst papers con-tinue to assert that the repudiation of both the initiative petitions which they caused to be placed in circulation was a Hearst vic-

The Hearst campaign failed. The absentee owner had misjudged the intelli-gence and the probity of the Los Angeles public. But there is food for sober reflection in the fact that 20,000 citizens of Los Angeles cast their votes in favor of using a legal right to commit a moral wrong. The power of the people is almost without limit; but, if that power is put to an infamoususe, government of laws will not be able to long protect the individual against mob-violence. Freedom of the press permits such outrages of public right and decency, and the incident presents a concrete exam-ple of the prostitution of the legitimate function of a newspaper.

There are so many cheerful mat-ters of which a man may talk and sing. I wonder why a fellow chatters about the grim and grisly thing. I wander daily by the ocean, the wonwander daily by the ocean, the wondrous ocean, vast and blue; it fills me with a high emotion, I want to talk about the view. And there are always people sitting on chairs and benches near the shore; old ladies with their endless knitting, old gents who find this life a bore. And they inhale the salty breezes and they experience no thrills; they talk all day of their diseases, of warts and corns and liver pills. I turn to them at times and thunder, "Forget your ringbones for a day! Admire with me this glowing wender, this peathat rolls from far Cathay. Oh, think of distant isless of coral, of lofty paim and banyan tree! To talk of goitre is unmoral when you behold this shining sea!" They look at me with grins sarcastic and talk again of purple pills; they speak of operations drastic they've undergone for divers ills. I have my share of dread diseases, they all are gone for divers ills. I have my share of dread diseases, they all are fatal, more or less; but when I breathe the ocean breezes forgotten is my form's distress. When ocean, busy as a beaver, chants forth its pean, grand and rich, I cannot think of chills and fever, of gout and mumps and barber's itch.

DROLL STORIES.

The Right Use for It. The fifth-grade teacher was fond of the young principal and it was often rumored that he was engaged to her. They managed to keep it a secret from the children yet most of them were suspicious. One way she showed her affection was by the way she co-operated with him in all his pet schemes. So when he started a pet schemes. So when he started a movement against .smoking she promptly began to help him out.

First she demanded that all her boys who smoked bring to her all the tobacco they had in their pockets. They did and it was a goodly supply. Taking the box which held it she said to one of the boys. "You take this down to Mr. T——"

Graves of 6100 soldiers of all wars

Graves of $100 soldiers of all wars are in the national cemetery here. $600 having been added in the last twelve months.

The observance this year, takes on a particular interest by reason of the formal participation for the first time, by veterans of the World War. On Sunday morning there will be memorial services in the Home chapels. On Monday, the Home officials, members, and patriotic societies with their auxiliaries, will march to the cemetery, where the services will include music by the band, prayer by Chaplain M. S. Kaufman, reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Henry A. Arnold of he G.A.R., placing of a wreath for the unknown dead by Bay District Post No. 4 Disabled Veterans of the World War, and strewing of flowers on all graves by school children of Sawtelle. At 19:30 o'clock the address of the day will be delivered by Capt. W. T. Helms of the United Spanish War Veterana.

Take 2 large cups crumbled bread. Let this stand % hour, covered with 3 cups boiling milk. Beat 2 eggs and add ½ cup sugar, 4 tablespoons Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate, butter size of walnut and pinch of salt. Add this to milk and bread crumbs. Flavor with vanilla extract and bake 1 hour in a covered buttered dish, in a medium oven. Serve with hard sauce, whisped cream or vanilla sauce.

Even the lowly bread pudding is glorified when you add Ghirardelli's. For this super-fine chocolate proves a "sweet blessing" to simple and elaborate desserts alike. For puddings, for pastries, for custards, for candies—you can use Ghirardelli's with equal case. Perfeth ground, it mixes readily with other ingredients. And you get a smooth, creamy chocolate-taste that's pure, wholesome and new!

SHACKFORD FAREWELL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCE.)

LONG BEACH, May 27.—Honoring Capt. and Mrs. Chauncey Shackford, a farewell ball was given tonight by officers and enlisted men of the Submarine Base at Hotel Virginia. It was one of the mose brilliant affairs of the season in Long Beach. The grand salon of the hotel was turned into a California garden by the profuse employment of sprays of lavender and yellow finmortelles. Four thousand invitations were issued.

A realistic-appearing submarine was anchored in the grass plot just east of the hotel, fully equipped with radio apparatus. As the guests arrived they were greeted with a wireless welcome; as they departed they were given a radio

LONDON LANDING OF FIRST SEA CARGO OF SOUTHLAND'S FRUIT PICTURED IN "TIMES."

It was a great day for Southern California agriculture when the first all-water-route shipment of citrus fruit from Los Angeles to London was unloaded at Tilbury docks in the world's metropolished on the firmest kind of a foundation and the growers are no longer helplessly dependent on the transcontinental railways. Lee Angeles and the great area tributary to it will from now on realize to the fullest extent the benefits from the Panama Canal. It was an epochal event, that first European shipment of oranges and lemons, and The Times has a rare treat for its readers in the shape lemons, and The Times has a rare treat for its readers in the shape of a page of rotogravure pictures of the loading and unloading of the historical cargo, appearing in tomorrow's Farm and Tractor section. The photographs were taken at Los Angeles Harbor and at the London docks and this will be the first publication of them.

This issue of the Farm and Tractor will cover an unusually wide field of agricultural developments and happenings and will be beautifully illustrated throughout. There is an interesting article on the new Acala cotton which has been giving such sensational results in Coachelia Valley. A full report of the recent survey of on the new acts to the recent survey of the recent survey of the Southern California valleys to determine the adaptability of various localities for grapes is another of the features.

One of the most inspiring articles of all details how plucky Imperial Valley ranchers have offset the losses sustained in cotton growing by going in earnestly for diversified agriculture.
